

Functions allow us to use variables to complete a task or get a result. Void functions don't return anything. Start Function is called when the game begins, Update runs every frame. First define the type that will be returned, create a name, use () to make a parameter, and use curly braces to define actions. If a function is created outside of start or update, it must be called.